General Service Board Meeting

The General Service Board of Alcoholics Anonymous, Inc. held its quarterly meeting via videoconference on Monday, November 2, 2020. Michele Grinberg, chair of the General Service Board, warmly welcomed all present.

All committees met during the weekend. Highlights of committee reports appear below:

Archives

The committee recommended a revision to the Public Information Policy on the Co-Founders’ Posthumous Anonymity to include the following text: “An anonymity-protected image of the co-founders may be provided to news media upon request, when appropriate, from the G.S.O. Public Information desk.”

Conference

The committee recommended that the 71st General Service Conference be conducted during the scheduled period of April 18-24, 2021 via remote meeting technology, with sessions of the 71st Conference to be conducted on a digital platform.

Cooperation with the Professional Community/ Treatment and Accessibilities

Cooperation with the Professional Community: The committee reviewed the draft language of the pamphlet, “A.A. in Your Community” and offered suggestions. The committee asked the staff secretary to bring back a draft to the committee at the January 2021 meeting. The committee also reviewed the audio samples and noted their usefulness in communicating with modern professionals. The committee discussed the concept of audio service material and agreed to forward the samples and background to A.A.W.S. for further development.

Treatment and Accessibilities: The committee discussed the update of the pamphlet, “A.A. for the Older Alcoholic.” The progress report provided by the staff secretary noted that seven stories have been received to date and the committee agreed with the staff request to explore additional avenues for requesting shared experience between now and December 15, 2020.

Corrections

An update was provided that for A.A.W.S. and AAGV to be involved in digital distribution into correctional institutions across the U.S./Canada footprint, it has been determined that multiple contracts will be necessary. AAGV has signed a contract with the vendor serving the Maine Department of Corrections and A.A.W.S. and AAGV anticipate adding additional contracts 2021. The committee discussed alternatives to the word “inmate,” noting that consideration should always be given to who the audience is for each communication when considering what terms to use.

Finance

Defined Benefit Plan and Retiree Medical Benefits: As of June 30, 2020, the market value of the Retirement Trust was $33,748,167 which compares with the plan assets of $37,240,252 as of June 30, 2020. There were no planned contributions to the Defined Benefit Plan in 2020 and all expenses will be paid from the fund itself so the balance will decrease over the next year.

2020 International Convention Update: All refunds have been completed with the exception of some credit card refunds that were not processed due to expiration of the cards. The Finance department at G.S.O. will handle these refunds. Cancellation of registration fees that have been donated are $40,324 and the insurance proceeds are $2,152,134. An advance of $971,092 was received initially, with the balance of $1,181,042 now in hand as well.

Ad Hoc Committee Progress Report — Google Grants and the Seventh Tradition: The subcommittee met twice in October, brainstorming regarding financial obligations, if any, in receiving and signing contracts with Google, what is being provided to Google and what is the difference between receiving in-kind services versus in-kind donations. The subcommittee wants to review policies and procedures that fall under this topic as well as reference any Conference advisory actions that speak to discounts, with the goal of reporting out the purpose of Google Grants for nonprofits and understanding how they are to be reported on our financial statements.

Reserve Fund Drawdown: The trustees’ Finance Committee recommended that G.S.O. be authorized to draw down up to $1.5 million from the Reserve Fund in the 4th quarter of 2020.
G.S.O. Financial Results

The committee reviewed G.S.O. financial results for the first nine months of 2020. Gross Sales for the first nine months of 2020 of $7,156,475 were $3,928,753 lower than 2019. Gross Profit from literature was $5,326,244 and represented a 76.00% Gross Profit Percentage.

Contributions for 2020 of $7,169,609 were $972,313 greater than 2019. The committee expressed its gratitude to the Fellowship for the continuing Seventh Tradition support.

Total Revenue (gross profit from literature plus contributions) was $12,677,330 and $811,954 less than 2019.

Total expenses for the nine months of 2020 were $11,882,137. This is $2,292,874 less than 2019. The decrease in expenses compared to 2019 was in large part due to a reduction in travel caused by the cancellation of events because of COVID-19. This reduction in travel also reflects that the G.S.B., A.A.W.S. and AAGV board meetings are now held virtually. The Travel, Meals and Accommodations line is $977,238 lower than this time last year. Professional fees are $704,354 for the period ending September 30, 2020 compared to $500,888 in 2019, a variance of $203,466. Contracted Services were $1,310,842 for the period ending September 30, 2020 which is $404,004 less than this time last year. The increase in professional fees is mainly due to expense for consultants hired for the reorganization of the Finance department.

The combination of the above revenues and expenses resulted in G.S.O. reporting a gain of $795,192 for the first nine months of 2020. This compares to a loss of $736,587 last year. Gross Profit from literature was $5,326,244 and represented a 76.00% Gross Profit Percentage.

General Service Board support of the La Viña service activity was $252,080 compared with a budgeted amount of $237,768 and an actual of $110,499 in 2019. La Viña Results

For the nine months ended September 30, 2020, average paid subscriptions for La Viña were 7,722 compared to 10,100 budgeted and 10,177 for 2019. Income from magazine sales for the first nine months of 2020 was $58,136, compared with a budget of $87,425. Other publishing income added $23,892 to the revenue stream. After deducting the costs and expenses of $277,680, a shortfall between revenue and expenses of $252,080 resulted for this service activity. This compares with a budgeted shortfall of $237,768 for 2020 and a shortfall of $110,499 for 2019. The shortfall for the La Viña service activity is funded by a transfer from the General Fund of the G.S.B.

Grapevine director Ino F. began by presenting on the subtopic, “Anonymity in Non-Traditional Meetings.” Anonymity was very important to Ino when he first arrived in A.A. “As a newcomer, I felt the safeguard of being anonymous before really understanding the spiritual principle. My heart lived it before my brain fully realized it.” Anonymity helped him keep coming back because he understood that the people in the meeting were there to stay sober “and all they want is to help me no matter who I am.”

Ino vividly described what his home group went through in the early days of the pandemic. “Our comfortable place, our home, our traditional way of meeting was gone.” His group accepted that they needed to move to a digital alternative, but “in the back of our minds, a whisper, a breath, a reminder… Anonymity.” They created a digital flyer, contacted their local intergroup office, and drafted a statement to read at the beginning of each meeting “letting everybody know about anonymity before anything else.”

As a member, Ino has embraced several practices. “I never use my full name. I use a picture on my profile that is understood that the people in the meeting were there to stay sober “and all they want is to help me no matter who I am.”

He is not naïve about the new challenges A.A. members face. “The evolution of the Internet, artificial intelligence and the importance of data make things more complicated when it comes to anonymity… Our personal information is out there and has made us vulnerable to manipulations on a level we have never seen before.” But he is comforted knowing that, “The threads of A.A. are woven into a fabric of great strength and resilience. Our General Service Structure is aware of all things that are occurring. The groups are not only conscious about this matter of anonymity on social networks, but they also respond with wisdom.”

Class A (nonalcoholic) Trustee Leslie Backus presented next, on the subtopic, “Pandemics — Can Anonymity Survive?” Even before all our lives were interrupted by a worldwide pandemic, Leslie recalled engaging in lively discussions about anonymity on media platforms. Now those discussions are more important than ever. Teaching members about ways to protect their anonymity, from naming conventions to settings and safeguards is a critical step. “The pandemic has brought about many changes and we cannot turn back the clock. So forward we must go.”

Leslie shared her experience as a treatment provider during the pandemic. “How do we provide confidential services via telemedicine? We actually use Zoom. I know with the safeguards that I can protect a client’s identity. It only works if I am willing to act in an ethical manner. So, as with the Twelfth Tradition, it is up to the individual to follow the principle.” In addition to the challenges presented by online meetings she also shared about the opportunities, telling the story of a client currently at her treatment center who only speaks Vietnamese. Not only were they able to get him a Big Book in his native language, but he is able to attend an online meeting that originates in Vietnam.

Mark thanked both presenters and invited attendees to raise their “virtual” hands and share. Perhaps because the topic was anonymity and humility it took a few moments for someone to jump in and speak. A Class A trustee shared how anonymity breaks by celebrities and others can bring A.A. to the forefront but in ways that are ego-driven rather than helpful. While she is powerless over what celebrities do, she wondered what all of us can do to bring the spiritual aspect of anonymity to the forefront. Another Class A trustee reflected on how humility is at the heart of anonymity and that it’s not easy giving up power, letting go, but that’s the story of A.A. Another trustee shared that it was her sponsor who taught her that anonymity was about much more than not revealing your last name, that it was about humility. She continues this tradition, feeling that it is her responsibility to help newcomers understand the full meaning of anonymity. She finds Grapevine articles are often helpful, especially with those who are new to A.A. and new to online meetings.

A Grapevine director recalled that back in 2002, members felt that online meetings couldn’t keep an alcoholic sober. However, right now they’re the only way many of us can get a meeting. She observed that alcoholics do not like change, especially when it’s thrust upon us, but that we do end up changing so much in sobriety. How we respond teaches us a lot about ourselves. A trustee shared that in discussions about anonymity and modern technology he appreciates nuance, that Traditions are really interesting around the edges. He hears, “If A.A. is not the way it was back when my sponsor got sober it’s wrong, it can’t work.”

But what about the early members who were absolutely sure that A.A. had to be face to face, and were proven wrong by the Big Book? He feels that Zoom can be a private means of communication just like the telephone. For him, the much bigger question is how we’ll incorporate electronic meetings into our service structure that is currently based in geography.

A Class A trustee shared that while anonymity doesn’t apply to him personally he understands the emotional stress and difficulties these challenging times are causing members. For him, the pandemic has opened the door to connecting with friends of A.A. all over the world. Lastly, a regional trustee shared that working one on one with another alcoholic is how he makes a connection with his Higher Power. Even though he and his circle of friends can no longer bring meetings into treatment centers, they maintain contact, letting them know they are available for help. They do the same with halfway houses in their community. He also regularly reminds those he knows in Al-Anon that they can send problem drinkers his way. He feels he has a spiritual obligation to carry the message and “can’t just wait for them to come to me.”

International

The committee noted that two Class A trustees have collaborated on a draft letter to international G.S.O.’s for linking G.S.B. Class A trustee professionals (U.S./Canada) with non-AA professionals who serve on G.S.B.s in other countries. Additionally, Class A (nonalcoholic) Trustee Nancy McCarthy reported that the Facebook private group established as the platform for Class A professionals serving G.S.B.s in other countries currently has twenty-six members and is also open to past Class A professionals.

International Conventions/Regional Forums

International Conventions: The committee considered the report and management recommendation regarding selection of a consultant for the 2025 International Convention and supported management’s recommendation to engage Talley Management Group as consultant to the 2025 International Convention.

Regional Forums: The committee reviewed the preliminary 2021 Regional Forum budget and agreed to forward it to the trustees’ Finance and Budgetary Committee.

Literature

The committee reviewed its Composition, Scope and Procedure, considering the recently acknowledged and accepted A.A. World Services “Policy on Publication of Literature: Updating Pamphlets and Other A.A. Materials,” and recommended that item number three in the Scope section be changed to read, “Reviewing or suggesting recommendations for revisions to or discontinuance of existing literature.”

Nominating

The committee created a short list of 14 Class A (nonalcoholic) trustee applicants to interview before the January 2021 General Service Board weekend. The committee recommended the following appointments to begin after the April 2021 General Service Conference: Deborah K. as general service trustee and trustee director on the A.A.W.S. Corporate Board; Vera F. as nontrustee director on the A.A. World Services Corporate Board; John W. as nontrustee director on the A.A. World Services Corporate Board; Irma V. as trustee director for two years on the A.A. World Services Corporate Board; Tommi H. as general service trustee and trustee director on the AA Grapevine Corporate Board; Coree H. as nontrustee director on the AA Grapevine Corporate Board; Mike L. as trustee director for two years on the AA Grapevine Corporate Board.

Public Information

The committee discussed a number of issues related to the Comprehensive Media Plan; public information platforms such as the A.A.W.S. YouTube channel, Google AdWords/Grants, the A.A.W.S. Meeting Guide app; anonymity on social media; PSAs; P.I. pamphlets; and the A.A. membership survey. The committee recommended that the following language be added to the G.S.O. P.I. Policy on the Co-Founders’ Posthumous Anonymity: An anonymity protected image of the co-founders may be provided to news media upon request, when appropriate, from the G.S.O. Public Information desk.

A.A. World Services

Since its July 31, 2020 meeting, the A.A. World Services (A.A.W.S.) Corporate Board met twice: September 11-12 as a Strategic Planning Session and October 30. During this same period, the A.A.W.S. Finance, Publishing, Technology/Communication/Services and Internal Audit committees each met twice. The A.A.W.S. Nominating committee met once.

Administration

The office has continued functioning on an entirely remote basis. Technical and HR support has been continuous. Contributions have begun to rebound, thanks to a strong commitment of the groups to support the work of the office and a number of communications regarding self-support have been initiated regularly with the Fellowship in the U.S. and Canada.

A recently instituted finance advisory team, led by CFO Paul Konigstein (nonalcoholic), will begin meeting on a regular basis to share information and feedback and to facilitate ongoing communication and transparency about finances.

Information is being gathered on the defined benefit pension plan, with the intention of bringing forward a proposal to the General Service Board, with discussion to continue through the fourth quarter and into 2021.

A recommendation will be forthcoming from the general manager that the General Service Board embark on a General Service Office relocation study to be initiated in 2021.

Administrative Services

Regarding a workforce return to the office, there is no firm return date as yet, with ongoing evaluation of options and continued input from employees, medical professionals and governmental regulations. Any return will be voluntary and will not take place at least until January 1, 2021.

Archives

The department continues responding to inquiries from the Fellowship on a myriad of topics on A.A. history, as well as sharing collected experience and providing resources to local A.A. archivists. Additionally, Grapevine’s Publisher is currently on a medical leave of absence.
