The chair warmly welcomed all present.

All committees met during the weekend. Highlights of committee reports appear below:

Archives

The committee reviewed a working draft of the proposed publication, Our Great Responsibility: Selections of Bill W.'s General Service Conference Talks, 1951 – 1970 (revised working title) and considered possible uses of two newly accessioned films accepted into the G.S.O. Archives repository.

Conference

The staff secretary reported on G.S.O.’s plan for translation of background material. The committee agreed to add an annual Conference presentation on international A.A. activities. They also approved a request from the A.A. World Services Board for a presentation/discussion at the 2018 Conference on A.A.’s principles and fiduciary responsibilities.

Cooperation with the Professional Community/Treatment and Accessibilities

Cooperation with the Professional Community: The committee reviewed the preliminary 2018 exhibit list and suggested adding a conference focused on family physicians and another on military professionals. The secretary will explore opportunities to have trustees submit abstracts and attend conferences within their fields of expertise. The committee also asked the secretary to encourage local committees hosting national events to take advantage of badge-reader technology and to educate them about the ease-of-use and value for capturing contact information at conferences.

Treatment and Accessibilities: Two subcommittees were appointed to research updating materials for the professional community, veterans, and active duty A.A. members, and to review Accessibilities materials. In addition, the committee discussed remote communities and the scope of the services being provided by local A.A. areas, districts, groups and members, with the consensus that there is a need for a better understanding of the historical evolution and current definition of this service.

The committee agreed to forward to the trustees’ Nominating Committee a request for an Appointed Committee Member (ACM) to serve on the trustees’ Cooperation with the Professional Community/Treatment and Accessibilities Committee to assist in developing resources for professionals and members who are veterans or currently serving in the Armed Services.

Corrections

The committee reviewed and agreed to forward to the 2018 Conference Committee on Corrections a request to develop a new pamphlet focused on long-term incarcerated alcoholics who are soon to be released.

The above asset amounts as of September 30, 2017 include the recent transfer from the Reserve Fund approved by the General Service Board at its July 2017 meeting.

G.S.O. Financial Results:

Bob Slotterback (nonalcoholic) reviewed the financial results of G.S.O. for the nine months ended September 30, 2017.

Net literature sales during the first nine months of 2017 were $10,509,804, which is $248,846 (2.4%) greater than budget and $531,342 (5.3%) greater than last year.

Seventh Tradition contributions during the first nine months of 2017 were a record $5,881,983, which is $593,175 (11.2%) greater than budget and $414,100 (7.6%) greater than last year.

Adding gross profit from literature and contributions resulted in net revenue of $13,150,183, which is $1,161,590
(9.7%) greater than budget, and $940,871 (7.7%) greater than last year. Total operating expenses for the first nine months of 2017 were $11,847,697, resulting in net profit for 2017 of $1,302,486. This compares with a budgeted profit of $85,993. This increase is due almost entirely to a $568,405 increase in gross profit from literature and an increase of $593,175 from contributions. When the 2017 profit of $1,302,486 is compared to 2016 actual profit of $800,145, the increase is due to the increase in gross profit from literature of $526,793 and the additional contributions of $414,100. This combined increase was offset by the $438,530 increase in expenses.

In summary; total revenue for the first nine months of 2017 was $13,150,183, compared to total expenses of $11,847,697, resulting in net profit for 2017 of $1,302,486. This compares with a budgeted profit of $85,993. This increase is due almost entirely to a $568,405 increase in gross profit from literature and an increase of $593,175 from contributions. When the 2017 profit of $1,302,486 is compared to 2016 actual profit of $800,145, the increase is due to the increase in gross profit from literature of $526,793 and the additional contributions of $414,100. This combined increase was offset by the $438,530 increase in expenses.

The committee heard a report with information about the fourth quarter and year-end 2017 projections. Full year 2017 sales are expected to be over the 2017 budget and contributions are expected to continue 11-12% over budget. Current projections indicate a profit of approximately $1,700,000 for full year 2017.

This is $106,987 greater than budget and $46,055 greater than last year. Total 2017 costs and expenses of $1,356,838 were approximately $89,586 (6.6%) less than budget and $39,858 (2.9%) greater than last year. After subtracting the costs and expenses from total income, the result is a $119,636 profit for the first nine months of 2017, compared with a $93,812 budgeted loss and a $109,840 profit for last year.

La Viña Results

The La Viña magazine had average circulation of 10,035 in 2017, compared to a budget of 9,646 and 10,338 in 2016. This resulted in a shortfall between revenue and expenses of $90,366 for the first nine months of 2017, which is $34,711 less than budget and $18,462 less than the shortfall for last year.

Reserve Fund

At September 30, 2017, the Reserve Fund had a balance of $14,310,746, which reflected the $1,250,000 contribution to the Defined Benefit Retirement Plan and $750,000 to the Postretirement Medical Plan in 2017. General Sharing Session

The topic of the Fourth Quarterly General Sharing Session was “Accessibilities — Serving All Alcoholics.” Deborah A., A.A.W.S. director, presented on the subtopic, “What accessibilities barriers does A.A. need to overcome?” and Patrick C., G.S.O. staff, shared on the subtopic, “How can we determine the needs regarding accessibility to the A.A. program of recovery?”

Deborah opened her talk by asking the question, “When we think of barriers, obstacles, things that are in the way, we have to ask where is it that we want to go?” She continued with a quote from Bernard Smith, in a 1954 address to the Conference: “to ensure that the doors of the halls of AA never have locks on them, so that all people for all time who have an alcoholic problem may enter these halls unasked and feel welcome... to ensure that Alcoholics Anonymous never asks of anyone who needs us what his or her race is, what his or her creed is, what his or her social position is.”

Deborah went on to enumerate numerous barriers to attendance in A.A., such as social standing, creed, education, psychiatric and mental status, country of birth, caregiver duties and many others. She concluded by stating, “as we consider each barrier, it is important to consider how we are doing in reference to membership in our home groups.”

Patrick shared from his own experience, “The primary barrier I had to overcome to receive the lifesaving message of A.A. was the space between my two ears...” He continued by drawing attention to outdated ASL service material identified by members at a Regional Forum and noted innovative ASL materials developed by local members who are Deaf.

Reviewing his experience and expectations working with the new ACM for the C.F.C./T.E. Accessibilities Committee, who happens to be Blind, he discovered in preparation for her first board weekend, “All documents needed to be emailed to her in Word or PDF text file format in order for her to listen to them using screen reader technology.” Patrick stated, “I simply needed to communicate with our new ACM to understand her needs.”

After the presentations, moderator Yolanda Flores invited all in attendance to share on the theme and subtopics. The following includes some of the sharing from attendees.

An ACM shared that his first service position was GSR for his home group, a meeting for alcoholics who are Deaf. He is hearing but joined the group to support his best friend who was losing his hearing. A nontrustee director stated he was active in the Online A.A. Intergroup which has over one hundred and sixty groups, in twelve languages and five formats. Their experience has many answers to accessibility questions.
A G.S.O. staff member shared her experience as a newcomer carrying the message into institutions for the mentally challenged. She said she learned tolerance and boundaries.

An ACM shared her challenges in A.A. trying to be an equal member and participate in service at all levels. She said all A.A. literature should be accessible in all formats. She added she comes to A.A. to deal with her alcoholism not her Blindness.

A Class B trustee stated he participated in an accessibility workshop where he was blindfolded and asked to experience an A.A. meeting. He became immediately aware of distractions and challenges that some of our Blind members experience.

A Class A trustee said we need to be more assertive in our P.I. and C.P.C. work to carry the message to the people who don’t know we are there. He stated we can be assertive and remain within our Traditions. A G.S.O. staff member shared that one way to approach under-represented groups of alcoholics is through civic or religious leaders that have credibility in their communities, noting that maybe we are not using the most effective channels within the community to help carry the message.

The committee received reports on the following international trips, followed by questions and discussion: 6th National Convention of A.A. Peru in Ayacucho, Peru; Meeting of the Americas (REDELA) in San Jose, Costa Rica; and the European Service Meeting in York, England.
