A.A. Message Reaches Out Into 114 Countries Around the World

World Service Meeting Plans a Tenth Step

The 1984 World Service Meeting will focus on candid self-appraisal when some 38 delegates — representing A.A. in 25 countries — gather October 21-25 at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City.

The theme, “The World Service Meeting Takes Its Inventory,” is expected to open channels of communication and insight through sharing for delegates from Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, El Salvador, England, Finland, France, Germany (West), Guatemala, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Mexico, New Zealand, Norway, Scotland, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland, Trinidad/Tobago, the United States, and Uruguay.

In taking stock of its own effectiveness, the international Meeting will discuss, among other things, ways to help isolated A.A.’s in underdeveloped countries start groups and central service offices and obtain an adequate supply of literature. The Meeting will also consider special funding for countries that are beginning an A.A. service structure, yet still can’t afford to send the usual two delegates to the W.S.M.; some such countries manage to send one or none at all.

During the five-day Meeting, committees and workshops will cover ongoing internal matters pertaining to communications, service structure, and literature translation and distribution; and A.A. services to reach the alcoholic through public information, cooperation with the professional community, and institutions work. All general sessions will be translated simultaneously into English and Spanish.

Gordon Patrick, nonalcoholic chairperson of the U.S./Canada General Service Board, will chair the W.S.M.; attendance will be limited to elected delegates and staff only.

This is the Eighth World Service Meeting. A Meeting has been held every other year since 1969. It is the fifth to be held in New York; others have been hosted by London, England (1974); Helsinki, Finland (1978); and San Juan del Rio, Mexico (1982).

How A.A. Grows Across the Seas

- An A.A. member, a professional musician from Bogota, Colombia, attends a weekend convention of Canadian A.A.’s in Winnipeg, Man., and shares his experiences in recovery with a fellow member, a business executive from London.
- A woman member from Auckland, New Zealand, on a round-the-world trip, stops off in Nairobi, Kenya, to be with a young A.A. friend who is celebrating her first year of continuous sobriety.
- An American tourist in Iceland sits in the meeting of the Akureyrarowilo Group of A.A., just below the Arctic Circle. While he fathoms not a word of the Icelandic language, he feels the same warmth and identification with his fellow alcoholics here that he feels back home.

Those are actual, indeed commonplace, happenings that keep repeating themselves as the Fellowship of A.A., mushrooming out from the United States, now criss-crosses the world. To date, the entire A.A. membership has doubled every seven years, not through any organized promotional effort, but spontaneously, through one alcoholic’s sharing with another. The problems of alcoholism know no boundaries, and the principles of recovery found in the A.A. program seem to work equally well in all cultures, all tongues, all nations. There are now more than 58,500 A.A. groups; of these,
Japan: Japan is a tribal society, much emphasis is placed on literature. All the books are being checked by Italian translators from Italy to bring Italian translations of most of our literature. A.A. has been confined until recently to a few Loners, since the breakup of the only group in the 1970’s, two A.A. groups and an Al-Anon group are flourishing, thanks largely to the efforts of two New York A.A.’s who came, saw the need, and pitched in to help (see the whole story, at right).

India: The Bombay Intergroup Office is considering the need for a general service office in India, In Calcutta, a result of A.A.’s rapid growth in Italy, there is a great demand for the literature.

Japan: According to A.A. Peter DeG. of Doylestown, Pa., who has spent much time in Japan, there is a General Service Office and anywhere from 160 to 200 meetings (not all of them groups). Peter reports that, since Japan is a tribal society, much emphasis is placed on group rules and regulations. Many of the English-speaking groups use the Twelve Steps but are not so familiar with the Traditions. “I was pleasantly surprised,” he said, “when I joined the Azabu Group in Tokyo, to find that this Japanese-speaking group stuck more to the Traditions than any of the other groups.”

Netherlands: The General Service Office in Amsterdam has published the Big Book in Dutch.

Poland: Three new groups have been added to the existent 13. Members are working to set up an intergroup office in Warsaw, as well as a translations committee to work on Polish translations of “Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions,” “Living Sober,” the Big Book, and other A.A. literature.

From a G.S.O. staff member who attended the Second European Service Meeting in Frankfurt, West Germany, last year, and from another who was on hand for the Third Ibero-American Service Meeting in Brasilia, Brazil, comes word that “A.A. growth is phenomenal in Europe and Latin America. We are seeing beyond doubt that countries can sponsor countries into service and that the World Service Meetings and interim zonal meetings are extremely effective in contributing to the growth of A.A. worldwide — where there is a service structure, there is growth.”

Americans Help Revive Calcutta A.A.

Several months ago, two A.A.’s from New York’s Midtown West Group traveled to India to visit Mother Theresa’s Missionaries of Charity, and found themselves midwifing the rebirth of A.A. in Calcutta. They were instrumental in the formation of two new groups, a Step meeting, an open meeting, a closed discussion meeting, and an Al-Anon meeting.

When Lorna K. and Nola S. arrived, there was but one A.A. group, a three-month-old fledgling formed by John P., himself sober only eight months and “holding A.A. on his shoulders, together with John V.,” Lorna recalls, “There had been an A.A. group back in the 1970’s, but all they talked about was cricket, and after a while the whole thing fell apart.”

In attendance at the “new” meeting were six men, several of them named John. They talked about God but not about alcohol, says Lorna, “and they had no idea of the A.A. Preamble or what it was about.”

Sharing the experience of their combined 11 years of sobriety in New York A.A., Nola and Lorna talked about the basics — from holding a business meeting to reading the Preamble to understanding anonymity and the differences among open, closed, and Step meetings.

“We put our own opinions aside and offered clean principles of the program,” Nola explains. “At first, they were like a kid with a new toy, wanting to show it off to everyone willy-nilly; but they wanted desperately to stay sober, and they listened and were open to suggestions, because they knew that otherwise they were doomed to fail.”

Writes John P.: “Lorna and Nola were God-sent. They helped us immensely. We have a new format for our meetings, and great enthusiasm has been generated. As I send this letter, another six ‘hopeless’ drunks are joining our fold, and I thank God.”

Not least affected is Mother Theresa, who, according to Lorna, “is the Missionaries of Charity. She told us she had been successful in helping to alleviate every aspect of human suffering — except alcoholism. She has attended some of the open meetings and has come to perceive the power of our kinship in suffering. She understands now that we who want to be sober have to share; after all, our very lives are at stake.”
When Nola and Lorna prepared to head home to the U.S.A. after a five-week stay, the original six A.A.'s in Calcutta had jumped to 30. The city's first Al-Anon group had seven members, all of them women. One was headmistress of a school, and most of the others were married to men sobering up in A.A. "We helped the women talk about their problems," Nola says. "They mostly knew each other but had not shared freely until now. They were so relieved and grateful."

Alcoholism is a "monstrous, continuing problem in India," Lorna reports, despite the growth of A.A. groups in Bombay and elsewhere in India. "You've heard about all those people who live on the streets, filthy and hungry and alone? Well, what you don't hear is that so many of them are drunk. They drink a terrible, illegal brew that they hide in sewers contaminated by rats. A few doses, and they're dead in a week."

"For Nola and me, to be able to help just a few of these people find A.A. and hope for life itself absolutely put a shining touch on our sobriety."

A.A. Globe-Trotters Stay in Touch

For travelers who would like to make contact with A.A. in countries outside the United States and Canada, the 1984 International A.A. Directory is now available — to A.A. members only, like all our directories — and may be ordered through your group or directly from: A.A. World Services, Inc., P.O. Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, NY 10163. Price: 75¢ per copy. Please be sure to identify yourself as an A.A. member.

The confidential, 56-page pamphlet acts as a guide to groups and individuals in 55 countries, and also lists special international contacts for the deaf, doctors, pilots, lawyers, gays, and more.

Where countries have their own general service offices, only English-speaking groups and contacts, intergroups/central offices, and Loners are listed. Travelers are encouraged to touch base with these offices before their trips, for up-to-date meeting information.

The U.S./Canada G.S.O. is eager for news of A.A.'s abroad, and asks all traveling members to share their experiences with the Fellowship overseas. A brief Traveler's Report form, addressed to G.S.O., is inserted in the directory for this purpose; just fill in the few lines and mail it off.

Quick Action! New Pamphlet and Filmstrip

As soon as the 1984 Conference granted its approval, a new pamphlet and a new filmstrip went into final production. Both are now available from G.S.O. "The A.A. Member — Medications and Other Drugs" (replacing "The A.A. Member and Drug Abuse") is priced at 15¢ per copy.

"Your G.S.O. Today" (replacing "P.O. Box 459") runs 13 minutes and is available for use only within A.A. It may be ordered in either of two forms: filmstrip and cassette, for $7.50; 35 mm slides and cassette, for $30.

New Roles for Three Already Experienced As Trusted Servants

Three new trustees — Robert P. Morse, Class A (nonalcoholic) trustee; Dan B., West Central U.S. regional trustee; and Jack F., Western Canada regional trustee — all have served the Fellowship well in other capacities.

- Robert P. Morse, of New York, N.Y., follows in the footsteps of his father, Robert W. P. Morse, who served as Class A trustee and board treasurer from 1965 to 1970 and "was instrumental in setting up a retirement program for G.S.O. staff members," the son remembers. The second-generation trustee and treasurer has more than 15 years' experience in the investment field; he has been a member of the Finance Committee these past two years. "I'm serving the best way I can," he says, "in the area of finance and investments. I've seen the devastation caused by alcohol in people close to me, and this is my way of doing something to help.

- Dan B., of Marion, Ohio, is part owner of a large farm operation and associated with a national cereal company. Formerly a Conference delegate on Panel 29 and chairperson of the Conference Literature Committee, he has served "at just about every level of A.A. since I sobered up in 1972." Dan is especially interested in "communicating with area delegates, learning of their needs and responding to them." The Third Legacy of Service is a grass-roots affair, he maintains: "That's what A.A. is all about, where it belongs.

- Jack F., of Vancouver, B.C., is director of a coal company and owns his own auto dealership and auto-repair service station. Sober 19 years, he has a 20-year-old son "who's been clean and sober since January, a wonderful thing." Like Dan, with whom he served on Panel 29, Jack has held "just about every A.A. office" from the group level on. "I wanted to stay sober, and that's what my sponsor said I had to do, so I did it," he recalls. Jack has chaired the Conference Finance Committee and has a warm interest in cooperation with the professional community, A.A. archives, and especially public information. "I don't know where I heard the A.A. message, or how the seed was planted," he says. "All I remember is, when I hit bottom, I knew where to call — and I suspect the work of a P.I. committee may have had something to do with it.

Letters to G.S.O.
Touch Cheryl Ann B., New on the Staff

If Cheryl Ann B. powders her nose to keep from shining, she won't succeed. A thoughtful lady, attractive and direct, she brings seven years of sobriety and an interesting background to her post as a member of the G.S.O. staff, which she joined on February 13.

Born and raised in Lowell, Mass., Cheryl "left college at age 19 and took a geographic to Boston," where she worked for Eastern Airlines, then for Air New England. Later, she would work in radio and television for a retail resort-clothes chain, where she was responsible for opening a new mail-order division.

"After 13 years of drinking," Cheryl says, "I sobered up in the Central House Group at Delray Beach, Fla., and later joined the Pompano Beach Workshop Group." Sober one year, she returned to college in Florida and earned the B.A. she had long postponed. "At the time, she recalls, "I was working days and nights, what with studying and working at a beach club."

At the suggestion of a group member, Cheryl, now an intergroup representative, wrote to G.S.O. about the possibility of becoming a staff member. The application took a couple of years to process, but here she is at G.S.O. — assigned to treatment facilities and two correspondence regions: Northeast United States and Western Canada.

"What really gets to me," she says, "are the letters from teenagers. One 14-year-old from Connecticut wrote, 'I have a problem with alcohol and want to run away but won't, because then nobody will care for my dog.' We receive such letters every week.

Gift shops and good food invite visitors to the Old Montreal section. (Never mind those other "attractions"—New Orleans had plenty, too.)

Less Than a Year to Go! Plan Now for Your 1985 Convention Trip

If you're planning to join in the celebration of A.A.'s 50th anniversary, July 4-7, 1985, at the Eighth International Convention, in Montreal, Que., Canada — as thousands of other A.A.'s are — then the time to make your travel plans is now.

The logistics of such a huge gathering are complex. About 13,000 hotel rooms are under contract, at reduced rates, for attendees from around the world. In order to obtain these lower rates, all requests for housing must be processed by G.S.O., together with registration forms; these, in turn, will be forwarded to the Greater Montreal Convention and Tourism Housing Bureau.

Each conventioneer must register and pay the $30 fee before the housing request can be processed. Registration forms, listing available hotel accommodations and requesting first through fifth choices, will be sent to A.A. groups worldwide in September 1984. Registrants will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, so it is wise to mail your completed forms early. For further information, or to obtain your form directly, write to: International Convention Coordinator, Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York, NY 10163.

Should you use the services of a travel agent, please be aware that you must register and request housing for the Convention directly from G.S.O., even though your agent handles your transportation, stops en route, etc. If a travel agent's check, rather than a personal check, is received, the entire package and check will be returned unprocessed.

Similarly, receipts for registration fees, as well as housing information, and bill for one night's lodging will be sent directly to you, not to your travel agent. (In the event that you have to cancel arrangements you've made, you can furnish your agent with the receipts and let him or her handle the rest.) Some additional information:

- All hotels require an advance deposit for one night's lodging.
- If members of a group wish to stay at the same hotel, every effort will be made to accommodate them. However, registration/housing forms for the entire party must be submitted in a single package, not piecemeal.
- If a person wishes to share a room, the names of both occupants should be indicated and bracketed.
- Children under age 12 will be admitted to the Convention at no charge and therefore need not be registered. However, their names should appear on the housing portion of the registration form.

Despite the need for registration procedures amounting to "rules" in smoothing the way for this enormous Convention, we are ready and eager to cooperate with everyone in any way we can.

Manual and Concepts Come Alive in Walking, Talking Seminars

It's a great reference work, like the dictionary, but who'd want to read "The A.A. Service Manual" "Twelve Concepts for World Service" aloud?

Chico C., of West Palm Beach, Fla., that's who — and many of the G.S.R.'s and D.C.M's who have attended his series of walking, talking, sharing seminars devoted exclusively to the manual and the Concepts.

It all started in 1981, when Chico was asked by his area chairperson to develop a program designed to stimulate interest in the manual. Says Chico: "After racking my brain and spinning my wheels, I tried God. I did such a good job of turning it over that, at the first seminar, I forgot to bring my manual — which, of course, was underlined in all the important places."

The result: Instead of reading the manual, he shared it, interspersing information with bits and pieces of his own experience and often poking gentle fun at himself. And all the time he talked, using a mike attached to a 40-foot cord, he walked up and down, using his hands as well as his voice to hold the listeners' attention to an "impossible" subject like the manual for 90 minutes.

Not only did they stay awake, they were fascinated. And they came back for more, 60 to 100 of them at a clip.

Now in its third year, the program consists of seven or eight seminars, held over a two-year period that coincides with the term of service of the area's G.S.R.'s. So successful has it been, says Chico, that the Tennessee State Assembly plans to start seminars of its own in July; South Carolina has also expressed interest.

As for Chico, he's planning to "rotate" off the podium. But he'll be around to help out, in the spirit of the Third Legacy he not only preaches but practices so well.

Grapevine Art Editor Leaves a Rich Legacy

Tom N., art editor of the A.A. Grapevine since 1978, died suddenly in March after a three-day illness.

"Tom's influence on the Grapevine was enormous," says editor Ann W. "His cover designs were particularly striking because of the way he combined type with art, as he did with the last cover he designed — for the June 1984 issue, celebrating the Grapevine's 40th anniversary." As a free lance, Tom also left a strong impression on the appearance of A.A. World Services literature; he designed leaflets, pamphlet covers, and the cover of the Big Book (third edition).

Born in Wilmington, Del., on May 28, 1910, Tom spent his formative years in Princeton, N.J. He drew pictures all through school, even when he wasn't supposed to. Says his daughter, Gail N. Herman, "He was often reprimanded for drawing in class; one time, the teacher punished him by making him kill wasps that had nested at the school. That didn't cure him."

While his brothers John and Philip went off to law school, Tom studied at the Art Students League of New York and happily sculpted humans and horses in a Greenwich Village studio. After graduating, he worked first for the newspaper PM, then for the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency, where he was art director for 14 years. In 1939, he married Constance Machacek of Nutley, N.J., and they had one child, Gail.

"Mother died in 1955, and that’s when Dad started to drink heavily," Gail remembers. "He was a quiet, gentle drunk who would just fall asleep. But, in time, he ran out of a job and money, and I married and left home. That’s when he hit his personal bottom, in 1962, and joined A.A."

Once Tom had some sobriety under his belt, he carried the message and a melody at the same time. He and fellow A.A.’s Debby M. and Terry L. formed a singing guitar trio they called “The D.T.’s.” Oldtimers will recall the group, which played gigs at many an A.A. function. “Dad loved to sing,” Gail says. "He used to bring down the house with his rendition of ‘Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette.’ He had a marvelous, dry sense of humor.”

Tom had his serious moments, too. “Whenever I stressed out,” Gail remembers, “he’d tell me, ‘Just look at what you have to do now; that way, you’ll get done what you have to.’ He really did believe in living one day at a time.” As those who miss him know, he did just that, superbly.

Open House at G.S.O.
Set for September 29

If home is where the heart is, hundreds of A.A.’s will feel right at home at the annual Open House to be hosted by G.S.O. and the Grapevine in New York City on Saturday, September 29, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. It’s a wonderful opportunity to know the staff members and to let them know you and tell you of the pleasures and problems they encounter in giving service to over 58,500 listed A.A. groups around the world.

Non-A.A. personnel, as well as staff, will be on hand; refreshments will be served; and orders for literature will be filled on the spot. A.A. films will be shown, with a choice of Spanish or English narration available.

In 1983, upward of 750 visitors came to the Open House — a good 80 percent of them for the first time. Even more are expected this year.

Because ample room is needed, registration will take place at Norman Thomas High School, 111 East 33rd Street (just east of Park Avenue), where coffee and doughnuts will be served. Please go to the high school first; then walk one short block down Park to 468 Park Avenue South (between 31st and 32nd Streets) and go up to the eighth floor to G.S.O., to start your tour. We’re looking forward to seeing you!

From the Mailbag

- “There is a rock sticking up in the middle of the bay in front of Joe’s cabin,” writes Cecil R., G.S.R. from Kodiak, Alsk. “This rock looks like a thumb, which helps explain why both the bay and our new group are named Thumbs Up, for the positive signal it implies. “We’re isolated — no electricity, phone, running water, or jobs, either. But we hunt and dig clams and gather firewood together, and some of our A.A. talks last far into the night. It’s great to be sober, and we really appreciate what we have.”

- Taking a stand in the endless debate over quality vs. quantity of sobriety, Harriet R., of Miami, Fla., writes: “Quality counts, but over time, does this ‘quality’ endure? I want to know how long people are sober in A.A. How have they handled job loss, success, a child’s drug problem? How have they dealt with lingering death, the storms and joys of life? As Bill W. wrote in discussing Step One, ‘The principle that we shall find no enduring strength until we first admit complete defeat is the main taproot from which our whole Society has sprung and flowered.’”

For Harriet herself — a past Conference delegate, Panel 27 — service in the Fellowship is the key to “enduring strength” and a happy sobriety: “Those dedicated trusted servants who stick to service and give of themselves are the ones with the kind of sobriety I want” (the kind that she has, we suspect, after her 28 years in the Fellowship).
