ANNOUNCEMENTS
FOR GROUP MEETINGS

ANYBODY HERE KNOW WHY JUNE 10, 1935 IS AN IMPORTANT A.A. DATE?
It was a life-saving day for us, as it marked an A.A. milestone reached by Bill and Dr. Bob, in Akron, Ohio. More details in this issue.

7,500 PUBLISHERS AND BROADCASTERS have again been asked to respect A.A.'s Anonymity Tradition through a letter mailed from G.S.O. I believe we would all enjoy reading about it on page three of this issue.

A.A.'S GENERAL SERVICES ARE GROWING OVERSEAS, so A.A.'s from fourteen regions will hold a world service meeting next year—the first in A.A.'s history.

IF YOU WANT YOUR A.A. EYES REALLY OPENED, glance through the 1968 Conference Digest just received with this issue of Box 4-5-9. It's about A.A. problems and answers, as covered at the recent 18th General Service Conference.

UNITY ASSURES OUR FUTURE

"Without A.A., you and I would not have too many tomorrows, and in A.A. if there is not unity, A.A. will not survive," said Tom B., G.S. Board regional Trustee from Western Canada. "So in our Fellowship, unity, survival and tomorrow are really one and the same thing."

Those statements keynoted the 18th annual General Service Conference, April 22-27, in New York this year.

He called the Conference itself "one of the greatest vehicles for understanding, communications and hence unity, that we shall ever have in A.A."

Describing the Traditions as the fruit of A.A. experience, Tom said, "much of this experience was of a tragic nature. Many of our early people rode off in all directions, in hot pursuit of alcoholic souls, motivated by a very sincere desire to help.

"But many were on an exercise of self-glorification. Anonymity was thrown to the winds, money was solicited, and in some cases 12th-Step work became virtually professionalized. We were about to fly apart at the seams."

"Other organizations who came before A.A. in the drunk business had already met with disaster," Tom reminded us.

"Early A.A.'s were aware of those disasters, and knew some guidelines would have to be evolved for us to avoid the same fate. So the lessons learned from our own tragic experiences, plus the demise of other organizations, were incorporated into our Traditions.

"We have made progress in our relations with other people in the alcoholism business, and in our ability to survive criticism."

"The last 30 years the picture of alcoholism has changed drastically. A.A. has moved from a 'leper colony' status to being an accepted and respected part of the community."

"But," Tom warned, "this increases the need to adhere to our principles of unity. More and more we are going to hear from our friends, 'Couldn't you people

A G.S.R. Speaks

Welcome to our corner—whether you are old or new at this service.
If you're like many of us, you would appreciate a tip now and then on what to do, and how to do it.
Now is a good time to start. With this copy of Box 4-5-9, your group also receives the 1968 Conference Digest. Primarily, these are tools for one particular kind of A.A. "trusted servant"—your kind, the G.S.R.'s. So here's a suggestion. Get a cup of fresh coffee and settle down by yourself for an hour. Take your time—and enjoy reading these two bulletins from beginning to end.

Don't study, just read. After each article, pause a moment to reflect.

So the items about group unity remind you of your group? Can you in your imagination identify with the Loners, the Internationalists, the alcoholics in prisons and in hospitals all over the world? Can you empathize with how lonely they must feel at times—and the great gratitude they experience when they realize they are really not alone—that in heart and spirit they are united with all the rest of us in the great worldwide A.A. family?

Where would ANY of us be without each other? In this spirit, surely all of us Third-Legacy workers will find good and loving ways to share what we feel and know with the other members of our group.

Please be sure to let us know just how you do it, and the results. If we go at it one step at a time, with patience and love...

relax your anonymity, get out into the open now?
He spoke of pressure from government as "tempting morsels for individuals and groups."

It will take deep understanding of our Traditions to avoid the pitfalls, Tom cautioned.

"I have witnessed the collapse of A.A. unity in several communities, not brought about by drastic breaks of Traditions, but by Traditions being ignored or stretched slightly."

None of these is really a unique case, he said. A knowledge of our history is our best approach in all such cases.

Tom also emphasized the need for the group conscience in A.A. to be an informed group conscience, and urged all members to keep improving their knowledge and understanding of all facets of A.A.

WORLD DIRECTORY NOTICE

A printing breakdown delayed delivery of our new World Directory which G.S.O. hoped so much to get to all groups early in April.

They'll go out about May 1, however. Meanwhile, "...serenity to accept the things we cannot change" is needed.

FIRST BIRTHDAY FOR NEW BOOK

No other A.A. book has ever received the widespread instant acceptance given to "The A.A. Way of Life," the reader by Bill W., which was one year old May 1.

Over 29,000 copies of this book were shipped out in its first year.

It is being used more and more at discussion meetings, according to letters we get at G.S.O., since it is keyed to such topics as willingness, trust, fear, tolerance, acceptance, admission,aloneness, dependence, finances, etc.

COMING UP IN GV

"My Name Is Mike" tells the story of an A.A. in far-off Taiwei, Taiwan, who, in a moment of crisis, picked up a November 1966 Reader's Digest and was saved from a drunk or worse by reading "An Alcoholic's Letter to His Son." The week that Mike's manuscript arrived, several requests came to the Grapevine to reprint that same Digest piece. So, in the June issue we give you "My Name Is Mike" and "An Alcoholic's Letter to His Son," both powerful reading and one more example of those wonderful A.A. coincidences.

Coming in July: A new "Letters" section in the front of the magazine. In a past Grapevine, J.P.R. wrote of "mental confusion" and the response has been heart-warming. Many of these letters will appear in the new July letters section.

IS YOUR DOCTOR A FRIEND OF A.A.?

These ideas have been suggested by doctors themselves (many of them in A.A.) at the request of the Public Information Committee of the G.S. Conference, since Dr. John L. Norris, nonalcoholic chairman of our G.S. Board, has often emphasized the importance of doctors' working with A.A., and vice versa.

1. Identify yourselves as A.A.'s to doctors who treated us as drunks.
2. Pay the doctor (make amends).
3. Satisfy yourself he knows about alcoholism, then trust him.
4. Avoid interfering.
5. Thank him for his help with any alcoholic, especially yourself.
6. Thank the hospital. Write the administrator a "Thank you for saving my life!" note. He can show this to his trustees who don't want alcoholics admitted.
7. Write the heads of psychiatry, medicine and nursing, where and when students can go to open meetings.

SEE G.S.O. STAFF AT WORK—AT YOUR OWN MEETING!

Want to see (in color) your G.S.O. Staff at work? Now you can, without leaving your own group. The NEW (third) G.S.O. filmstrip is not cartoon, but actual photographs.

You also hear each Staffer tell what she does for all of us on the accompanying record, plus that thrilling mass "I Am Responsible" declaration from Toronto. Price: $4.50.

8. Select carefully members who do hospital 12th-Step work or arrange institutions meetings.
9. Keep in touch with any physician who refers a patient to A.A.
10. Give doctors A.A. telephone numbers they can use 24 hours a day.
11. Give physicians A.A. literature, over and over again.
12. Arrange special meetings for medical personnel.
13. Watch your language. Making fun of doctors publicly, or criticizing them does not help.
First World Service Meeting

A.A.'s from 12 or more regions of the world will participate in the Fellowship's first World Service Meeting in New York in the fall of 1969—according to present plans.

Australia, New Zealand, United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Germany, Finland, Norway, Central America, Mexico, Colombia, South Africa and perhaps other zones of A.A. population will send two delegates each. Two North American A.A.'s chosen at the 1969 General Service Conference will also attend.

Our General Service Board began this planning in 1967. Bill W., at the Board's request, wrote the above-named places—all of them have had their own General Service set-ups for several years—and all responses have been enthusiastic.

About Anonymity

Helping to insure the anonymity of all A.A. members is one of our jobs here at G.S.O., as you know.

So our Public Information Committee has just mailed to 7,500 newspapers, magazines, radio and TV stations a letter explaining our Anonymity Tradition and two reasons it is so important to us and our families—and to all those sick alcoholics who have not come to A.A. . . . yet.

Local P.I.C.'s and Central Offices also got copies. According to the letter, "anonymity at the press and broadcast level" is our assurance to newcomers that their membership in A.A. will not be disclosed, nor will they ever be expected or required to disclose it. . . . Problem drinkers still seem to hesitate to seek help in A.A., despite increasing knowledge about the disease of alcoholism.

The second reason anonymity at the press or broadcast level is important, the letter says, is "it helps discourage drives for power, profit and prestige which could divert us from our primary purpose. . . . Members do not use membership for personal gain or self-aggrandizement—to further their careers, promote products or services, or to give weight to their arguments in public controversy."

Copies of the letter are available for any group who wishes to distribute or discuss them. Also, reprints of Bill W.'s famous Grapevine article, "Why Alcoholics Anonymous Is Anonymous."

NOT THE SAME

"Not liking what we were seeing and hearing, some of us decided to talk it out. Instead of complaining, we hoped to get action. We did, as a result of a membership meeting in a home on a non-meeting night," writes Bob, Blue Plate Group, Conn.

He has sent us the agenda used for this business-type membership meeting, and it's great. It is built around Unity, Recovery, and Service. Here's some of the "action" they got:

"We formed our first Beginners' Class. Sixteen new members at the first one, and the results are most gratifying to all."

"We installed a 'house committee' of three to accept total responsibility of such service. New spirit—new enthusiasm and new interest in the group by all."

"We decided to continue these membership (business type—group inventory) meetings. Many are asking why they didn't get to the last one!

Tips for Sober Vacationing

About to embark on your first vacation trip in A.A.? If being nervous about it won't help. But oldtimers and newcomers alike find it useful to make some levelheaded preparations from the experience of many A.A.'s.

1. Get ready with an "Easy Does It" attitude. Make today a good A.A. day instead of borrowing future frets.

2. Talk it over with other A.A.'s, get their suggestions.

3. Get a World Directory and make local A.A. contacts wherever you go. Use the A.A. calendar in this issue, and if you get near New York, please come visit your General Service Office.

4. Slip some Grapevines and pamphlets in your bag for a private, quiet "reading meeting" each morning. (Or maybe this is the time to turn the jacket inside out on "A.A. Comes of Age" and really read it, as you've been meaning to!)

5. Take your personal A.A. address book with you, and every day write at least one postcard to members back home, for your sake, not theirs.

6. Plan an itinerary that is NOT a boozers' dream. No need to include memory-laden old watering holes and drinking buddies every time.

7. Plan non-drinking activities you'll enjoy remembering—churches, museums, theaters, etc. Too much idle time can be bad, but so can fatigue, and hunger, of course.

8. Make sure you have at least one companion who knows you're in A.A. He's on your side, can secretly "sponsor" you.

9. Plan what to do on drinking occasions. Decide in advance which nonalcoholic drink you're going to order.

10. Many of us feel better, if we simply tell the truth about being recovering alcoholics. Where you're going there may be a sick alcoholic asking God to send him help somehow, please.

A.A. BOOKS IN VIETNAM

"I have received my books in first-class shape," writes Mac C. from Vietnam, "and so far have read completely 'The A.A. Way of Life' and 'A.A. Comes of Age.' "

"They are all really exceptional and beyond all expectations. They have answered many of my questions and made me better acquainted with A.A. as a whole."

"How close we do all become to each other, how much like a large family! I feel a kinship and sense of belonging as I read."

"I have received my first letter, and have high hopes of others. I would gladly tape messages to anyone...."

SKID-CROW

That's how one news service titled a story from Perth, about crows hooked on cider oozing from apple dumps in Donnybrook, Australia.

A town councillor and the shire clerk said they saw crows so inebriated they couldn't perch.
